Woman Is Candidate For Lincoln-Way High Board

There are five candidates for the two places to be filled on the Lincoln-Way high school board in the election April 14 and one of them is on the staff side.

Inadvertently her name was not listed in those carried last week thru no fault of hers or board officials.

The woman in the race is Beatrice F. Link, who resides on 80th avenue in Frankfort township. She is married, is a teacher in a Chicago junior high school but finds time to be housewife, mother and take part in the activities of the Legion Auxiliary, the PTG, the Band Boosters and is a member of the Frankfort Women's Bowling league.

Her husband, Oren, is a civil engineer and Cook county contractor. They have two sons. The eldest, Scott, graduated from Lincoln-Way high school two years ago and is now a student at the University of Kentucky; the youngest, Gordon, is a freshman at L-W.

Mrs. Link has been a teacher 14 years. She teaches mathematics. She also is interested in music and plays the violin and organ.

She describes herself as a conservative and is for keeping the school budget balanced, with a priority on expenditures would give the youngsters the best education possible.

With Mrs. Link there are three candidates from Frankfort township, James A. Dixon, of Lincoln Estates, now on the board and seeking re-election; and Albert J. Behnke, of Arbury Hills, a professional photographer. The other two candidates for the board are from New Lenox—J. Earl Robinson, who is a candidate for re-election and George L. Preston, an employee of the Caterpillar Co.

Lunar Travel To Mark Library Essay Contest

A trip to the moon would be exciting to contemplate, but taking a favorite character from a book along would be even more exciting. To celebrate National Library Week, the Mokena library is sponsoring an essay contest for sixth, seventh, and eighth grade pupils.

The essay should contain 150 words or less, written in ink, neatness and legibility count. Papers may be turned in to teachers during Library Week (April 8-12). Name, grade and school should be put on the essay paper, and be sure to include the name of the book or magazine desired if a winner.

The rules state that students may choose from one of the following topics: 1. The character from a book I would like to have with me if I were to spend six months on the moon. Why? or 2. My favorite book. Why?

The essay should contain 150 words or less, written in ink, neatness and legibility count. Papers may be turned in to teachers during Library Week (April 8-12). Name, grade and school should be put on the essay paper, and be sure to include the name of the book or magazine desired if a winner.

WHOM WOULD YOU CHOOSE to have for a companion on a trip to the moon? This companion, however, must come from inside the covers of a book. That is the contest this year as part of observance of National Library week and essays written by sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils are to be turned in next week, April 8-12 to their teachers. The Mokena library, which is sponsoring the contest locally, is offering six prizes—three to the public school and three to St. Mary's. The young man getting the contest rules here from Sister M. Mercedes is Tony Consola. Looking on is Mrs. Walter Shewski, one of the contest committee appointed by Mrs. Phillip Lenz, president of the Mokena library board.

Krusemark In Whirlwind Finish - - Predicts Victory

Albert H. Krusemark, candidate for state senator from the 41st Senatorial District, in the final week of the campaign predicted a clear-cut victory and made a strong appeal to Republican voters for true conservative Republicanism.

Krusemark cited the tremendous support received from many Republican groups - the Bloomingdale Township Regular Republican Organization, the Hinsdale Women's Republican Club, the published endorsement by 27 committeemen from Downers Grove Township and the wonderful support from the many committeemen, committeewomen, Young Republicans, women's Republican members and local officials all through the district.

In campaign appearances this week he stated:

"I believe that the voters of this district want a candidate who will stand up and fight for true conservative Republican principles - Republicanism based on the use of sound business principles in government - on a fundamental belief in our Constitution - on the safeguarding of our private free enterprise system and on the strengthening and modernizing of local government.

"Other brands of Republicanism such as so-called 'positive Republicanism' sponsored by one of my opponents are not the principles of our Republican party.

"As stated by Sen. Everett Dirksen at Elmhurst, Republicans do not need a new image. All that is required is that we shine up our old image and let our people know where we stand."

Krusemark said further:

"My opponent has said that conservative Republicans are 'agin' this and 'agin' that. What is wrong with being against deficit financing and uncontrolled spending? What is wrong with being against the ever-increasing tax load? What is wrong with being against the proposed state income tax which would be just another tax piled on top of our already heavy tax structure? As a conservative I am for sound educational standards. I am for increasing our necessary mental health facilities in Illinois - especially to relieve the overcrowded conditions in our homes for mentally retarded children. I am for equalizing the tax structure in the State of Illinois so as to eliminate the disproportionate share of the tax load falling on the property owner.

"I don't believe anyone really knows or understands just what 'positive Republicanism', as sponsored by Harris Fawell, really stands for. Originally in the campaign he stated that he was liberal on social welfare matters and conservative on fiscal matters - if this is possible. Later he stated that he was a 'positive conservative Republican'. In his printed material he has stated, 'It is coupled with the realism that human nature is still quite imperfect and that when an individual cannot, or will not, exercise the responsibilities which are his in a free society, then 'positive' action must be taken. This realism plainly sees the perpetual tension which exists between the individual tastes and the vast needs of society.' I would like to have it defined - 'when positive action will be taken'.

"In fact the above statements would appear to be very close to the statements being used by the Democrats in their New Frontiers.

"The statement my opponent made that the conservative Republicans are killing the GOP by ignoring their responsibilities is as fallacious as it is deceptive.

"The subject of a state income tax has had my opponent squirming from one corner to another. Originally he came out in favor of a referendum on the state income tax if it was a flat rate with a ceiling. Later in a letter addressed to all committeemen on March 2 he stated: 'I am firmly opposed to the adoption of the state income tax proposed by the PRESENT ADMINISTRATION.' In some of his recent speeches he has stated that he is flatly against a state income tax, but in this week's news release he says that he is only against a graduated income tax. His inconsistency is apparent."

"My opponent," said Krusemark, a veteran lawyer and school district president, "apparently thinks Republicans in Springfield have done nothing. I gather from his remarks that he believes the Democratic programs should become law. These include punitive taxes on corporations, taxing of savings accounts, bonds and stocks, an increase of almost every type of tax without a specific earmark for use of the funds derived, the option of various taxing bodies to raise or levy taxes without local right of referendum, a municipal tax rate for Chicago without a ceiling, and above all, a state income tax."

"I for one," said Krusemark, "originally took a decisive stand in my declaration of candidacy. If elected, I shall have no part of any state income tax proposal, whether it be by statute or constitutional amendment. I do favor changes in the Revenue Article to correct some inequities, but not to the point that punitive or repressive taxation is made possible, which has the potential of driving business away from the state and compounding an unemployment problem."

"I respectfully submit my record, my program and the things for which I stand as evidence of a solid conservative Republican; I have employed no fancy phrases. The issues are clear. So are my stands on the issues. These have not been changed by me to suit any particular audiences. They have been uniform throughout the campaign. As your state senator, they shall remain consistent, and I pledge myself to the limit to extend the good record by which true conservative Republicans have distinguished themselves."

Concluded Krusemark, "We have a job to do, and it takes real Republicans to do it."

L-W Board To Discuss Bond And Junior College Issues

The Lincoln-Way high school board is scheduled to hold a special meeting tonight at which two major items of business are to be discussed—the setting of a new date for a bond election and what legal action it would be possible to take to divorce the district from further involvement in the proposed community junior college program for the southwest suburban area.

The district held a referendum Feb. 24 on a proposed $750,000 bond issue to build an addition to the present school plant. The issue was defeated by a small margin and board members are in agreement that the question must be submitted again to the voters.

By September, 1963, school officials say, there will be no room in the present plant for the enrollment anticipated a year hence and they would like to get the building started now so it would be ready.

The law requires that 60 days must elapse before the bond referendum can be voted on again. Shortly after the issue was voted down last February the board tentatively fixed on April 28 as the date for re-submission of the question.

It is possible that at the meeting tonight the board will agree upon an election date and indications are that April 28 is still favored.

The largest negative vote on the issue in the February referendum was polled in New Lenox. The board is hopeful for different results at the next election. Members point out they have no desire to add to the taxes now carried by the householders of the district but they have no choice.

The present school plant does not have sufficient classrooms to accommodate all of the students now, the board related, and by the time the 1963-64 school year opens the situation would be intolerable.

It was said at the time the bond issue was voted down in February that some of the opposition was an outgrowth of dissatisfaction with the entry of Lincoln-Way into a proposed junior college district program.

Lincoln-Way, on recommendation of a survey committee, joined with six other high school districts—all located in southwest Cook county—to petition for a referendum on the formation of a junior college program. The petition was finally acted upon by Noble Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools. He found it sufficient but has not yet set a date for a referendum. To carry the proposition will have to have a majority vote in both the incorporated areas and the unincorporated areas.

It was not until the petition was before Puffer that any opposition to the program was voiced in the Lincoln-Way district. Since then there has been considerable protest and several meetings have been held about the district to voice displeasure with the junior college idea.

Such a meeting was held at Mokena last week, sponsored by the Mokena PTA. It was the consensus of opinion of this group that any entry into any junior college set up at this time is not in the best interests of the area.

Most persons who discuss the question are of the opinion that the needs of the high school should be met before a junior college is considered and the Lincoln-Way board of education is in full agreement.

The board has said that it was ready to withdraw from the program if it is legally possible to do so. From the attorney general's office an opinion has been given that the junior college district law does not provide any means for detaching from it.

It is expected that the next session of the legislature will be urged to make several amendments to the law, including the inclusion of an escape hatch.

In the meantime the Lincoln-Way board is endeavoring to ascertain if it or a friend of the board could take any court action to clarify the situation and perhaps enable the district to get out.

It is said that the petition before Puffer contained 784 names which is 284 more than the law requires. There are some who believe that if 285 of the signers could be persuaded to withdraw their names from the petition before an election date is set that it could then be declared invalid.

It was believed that Puffer would not attempt to set a date for a referendum until next fall which would open the way to relief by new legislation. If a referendum were held before July 1 and the vote was favorable for a college, the district would be formed immediately. If the election is after July 1 and the proposal carried, the district would not be organized until July, 1963, and in the meantime the legislature would have met.

If a negative vote were polled, of course, that would end the matter for Lincoln-Way.

Schmuhl School Polls Will Be Open 2-6 P.M.

Voting hours at the Schmuhl school election April 14 will be from 2 to 6 o'clock on the proposed tax increase as well as for the election of a director.

The candidates for director will be chosen at a caucus to be held at the school at 1 o'clock. At 2 the polls will open. The school will serve as the polling place.

The district seeks public approval of a proposal to raise the educational tax fund rate from 92 cents per $100 equalized assessed valuation to $1.13. The directors are asking the increase, it was explained, because the present rate does not yield sufficient income to meet the needs of the school.

The proposed new rate could bring in a revenue of $19,825, it was stated, while the maximum return from the present rate is $16,140.

JUNK PAVES WAY to canoe trip in Canada for Explorers Post No. 8, Boy Scouts, of New Lenox. This scrap metal which Paul Goldschmidt of 265 W. Wood Street permitted to be piled in his yard, was hauled away last Saturday and enriched the Explorers treasury by approximately $75. Now they have started making trellises for gardens and will be selling those for the next several weeks to bring in more money. Last year they painted barns to earn the money for their trip. All are students at Lincoln-Way high school and Neil Stellwagen is president of the post. The 10 lads shown here are all going on the canoe trip, plus one more who was unable to get there for the picture. (Semmler Press photo)

We Are For Krusemark And Bottino

There are times in primaries when we do not express a preference as to candidates but in the one coming up April 10 we would like to recommend two Will county men for your consideration -- Albert H. Krusemark, of Frankfort, and Louis F. Bottino, of Lockport.

Mr. Krusemark is seeking the Republican nomination for state senator in the 41st district which is made up of Will and Du Page counties. There are two men, both from Du Page county, who are running against him.

Mr. Bottino is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state superintendent of schools. He is opposed in the primary by a high school coach from Springfield.

We are for Krusemark and Bottino, not only because they are neighbors but we believe them to be qualified in every way for the offices they seek.

There will be many problems coming up in the next four years dealing with the waterway, government land coming into possession of the state, and Hickory creek, to name a few, that are of particular importance to Will county. It would be more advantageous to have a Will county man in the state senate in giving consideration to these problems.

Mr. Krusemark is a young man--46--but he has had a wealth of experience that should be invaluable to his constituents.

He is a man of mature judgment and a conservative in his political philosophy. History shows that the true liberals, the men who work for constructive progress, are the conservatives.

Mr. Krusemark has been actively engaged in the practice of law for 23 years (he has an A rating in the Martindale-Hubbell registry) and for the past 13 years has served as a precinct committeeman.

He has also been active in the operation of his 240-acre dairy farm; is a district director for the Pure Milk Association; a member of the Will county and Illinois Farm Bureaus; a member of the Illinois Holstein-Friesian Association; a member of the Will County Health Board and the Will County Family Service Agency. He also has been active in many civic and welfare agencies and a lifelong active member of St. Peter's United Church of Christ.

Mr. Krusemark is a past president of the Frankfort grade school board and has been president of the Lincoln-Way high school board since it was established in 1952.

He is a bank president as an attorney has served as an advisor and business consultant for many firms and enterprises.

In his campaign he has emphasized that while he is for a thoro study of the Illinois revenue system and a possible revision of the revenue article of the constitution he is against a state income tax.

He also stresses that he is for keeping and maintaining local government in the hands of local people as the best means of preserving the democratic processes; that he is for strict economy and a sound fiscal policy for the state.

Krusemark is courageous, tenacious and can be counted on to fight for what is best for the district.

In the case of Mr. Bottino Will county can take pride that it is offering such a well qualified man to the voters of Illinois.

School administration is his business and if nominated and elected we believe the cause of education in Illinois will get a tremendous lift.

Bottino's career as a schoolman spans 26 years. He has been a high school teacher, basketball coach (one of his Braidwood teams won the state prep title) high school principal and superintendent; county superintendent; state legislator for two terms and has been most active in civic and welfare causes. In World War II he enlisted as a private in the U.S. Marine Corps and came out a captain.

He is enthusiastic but tempers his enthusiasm with good, hard common sense, and is a hard worker.

He has taken post graduate work in school administration and his experience in the legislature would be invaluable to a man in the office of state superintendent of public instruction.

There will be many changes as well as suggested changes in Illinois school law in the next decade and it would be well to have a state superintendent who has had experience in legislative affairs.

When 10:15 arrived Monday night the NBC TV show emanating from Chicago had the same format it had Friday night but with big difference. It was no longer the Jack Paar show.

Hugh Downs is still the announcer and undoubtedly in the weeks to come many of the same people who have become so familiar to viewers of the Paar show will be on hand to chat or perform as they have in the past but Jack will not be there to wheedle or needle or to touch off some new controversy thru a forthright declaration of his thoughts and beliefs. Nor will Jose Melis, talented pianist and musician, be on hand.

It was all summed up Friday night in a printed line at the end of the credits that marked the end of a program on TV.... "No More to Come," it read.

Jack will be back in the fall but in a new show. The late show that runs for an hour and 45 minutes that he has made so popular has come to an end. Johnny Carson is to take over in the autumn but whether he can keep people up until after midnight night after night remains to be seen.

NBC has had a gold mine in Paar. After 10 o'clock is not prime time on TV and radio and to have sponsors waiting in line to get spots on a show that runs until midnight in the midwest and 1 a.m. in the east was unheard of before Paar.

Paar can be infuriating at times. There are occasions when one would like to shake his hand or slap his back and there are others when one would like to kick his pants. But regardless of what one might think of him--one watches the show.

Some of the critics, some of the columnists in the metropolitan papers, some of the papers and some of the news magazines have given Paar a rough time, especially in the past 18 months. Most of this, we suspect, stems from the fact that Paar declined to genuflect when approaching or approached by some of these self-hallowed figures.

It must be bitter tea indeed, for some of these people to swallow -- to be defied by a performer, of all persons, and to discover that the public is supporting him.

Mr. Paar is to be admired for the manner in which he confronts his critics and spits in their eyes. They don't make many of them kind no more. People in the entertainment world and the beginners in the political field are usually supersensitive to the adverse spoken or written word. The experienced politicians develop a protective covering in time that nothing seems to dent.

Mr. Paar is quite sensitive at times but at others he is as hard as an anvil.

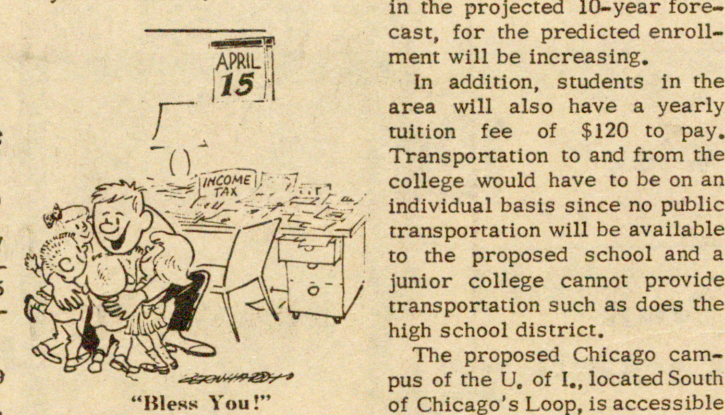

Paar has a nice wit and the ability to draw people out so that the informal talks between himself and his guests or among the guests have usually been quite entertaining. You know they had to be to be to hold an audience estimated around 11-million night after night. Sometimes his naivness is unbelievable but then he is a forthright individual and in instances where most of us would hesitate to admit our ignorance on a subject we should know Paar doesn't. He comes right out and pleads ignorant and asks for an explanation.

We don't believe that even his most vocal critics would accuse Paar of being ungenerous. From those in a position to know comes word of his generosity to those in need of money and everyone know of the many instances in which he has helped performers to get a start.

Exposure on the Paar show not only gets a performer's career launched but it pushes it into orbit and there are quite a few that are now big names in the entertainment world who owe their position having been guests on the Paar show.

When Jack Paar was finally given the Tonight Show it gave all indications of being ready to fold. He changed the format and plunged it. It was freely predicted the show wouldn't last more than a couple of months. That was over four years ago and it is still going strong.

We are interested in what Mr. Paar will do in his show and wish him success. We think it will be a success because Paar is an old pro broadcaster and has what it takes. There ain't many of them kind anymore neither.

Detailed cost - accounting farms in Illinois have reduced by 1 1/2 the number of machine operations, or trips over the corn field, since 1952. Corn fields were worked 2 1/2 times less with harrow, disc and cultivator in 1960 than 1952, but one time more with spraying and fertilizing operations. These changes have been profitable on most farms. Are you using the best methods for your farm?

If you are planting corn at 16,000 kernels per acre or higher or using planting speeds exceeding 4 1/2 miles per hour, then calibrate your planter at field speed so that the seed plate matches the seed corn. University of Illinois tests show that matching seed to the seed plate is important at high populations and planting speeds.

Studies of 1961 farm business records from all sizes of grain farms on high-quality land in east-central Illinois show that the half with lower net incomes had more diverted acres in the feed-grain program than the higher half. However, the data do not show whether more poor managers participated in the feed-grain program or whether compliance was responsible for the lower income.

Feed grain when cows go on pasture. Since grass-legume pastures are high in protein in early spring, lower the protein content of your grain ration to about 10 percent total protein during April and May. When the pasture is in bloom, add high-protein supplement to raise the protein content to 12 or 13 percent.

YOUR CANDIDATES ANSWER

George T. Wilkins, candidate for re-election as Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction, was the only candidate who chose to answer six questions submitted to him by this newspaper regarding his stand on the issues of the coming Primary Election.

Mr. Wilkins is a Democrat.

Wilkins' Answers.

1. Do you interpret the requirements of this office to be strictly administrative or do you believe they should include policy-making? State the reasons for your conclusion.

1. The Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is not strictly an administrative office because the Superintendent of Public Instruction, under Article 2,325 of the Illinois School Code, is required to establish the standards for the recognition of schools in Illinois. The Illinois Statute further requires that in certain cases the Superintendent of Public Instruction has the duties and responsibilities of a quasi-judicial official. Therefore, under our present Statute the office is mostly administrative in nature, but in certain instances it requires policy making, and even quasi-judicial decisions.

2. Would it be possible to eliminate Federal Aid for Illinois Schools without impairing the quality of our children's education? Explain.

2. As to whether it would be possible to eliminate Federal Aid for Illinois Schools without impairing the quality of our children's education—it would not be possible to eliminate federal aid unless the state and the local district would be willing to provide approximately an additional $30,000,000, to replace the assistance that the Federal Government are rendering to the schools in Illinois in the form of grants or aids.

3. Should the teacher tenure law be revised? In what way?

3. Tenure Law—I believe the Teacher Tenure Law is operating in a satisfactory manner in Illinois.

4. What portion of school expenditures should be borne by local initiative and what portion by state aid?

5. What kinds of modern teaching aids do you advocate (airborne TV, teaching machines etc.) and how strongly will you encourage schools to use them?

4, 5, 6. At the present time the local taxes are providing for about 72% of the cost of education in Illinois. The State is providing for 25%, and the Federal Government about 3%. When the State of Illinois has adequate revenue it should provide for an increased share of the burden of education for the children of Illinois.

We must make use of all new media of teaching and communication such as educational television, teaching machines, team teaching, etc. I am the chairman of the subcommittee that has been established by the School Problems Commission to make reports to the Governor and General Assembly for a program that will provide a statewide system of educational television. I believe that this is a "must" and that the Illinois General Assembly must provide for a statewide system of educational television.

Bottino Pledges Improved State Education Program

"My campaign for high public office has been a 'we' operation all the way through," said Louis F. Bottino, candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of superintendent of public instruction of the state of Illinois, at a testimonial fund raising banquet given in his honor at Joliet's Woodruff hotel last Thursday night.

"I hasten to emphasize the 'we' operation, in view of the great numbers of good people who have assisted me in the spirited campaign which we are waging for good education second to none," Bottino said. This campaign gives proof beyond question that no man lives unto himself. It is a case of 'we', not 'me'. The job which these fine folks have done could never have been done alone.

"If elected, I shall dedicate the services of the office of public instruction to promote an improved quality of education and the everstrengthening of our public schools.

"In our humble judgment, our public schools have made America the great nation that it is today. Without it, both freedom and an equal opportunity for all would be entirely lost. The stakes of good education are necessarily high. Good public school education needs sound leadership which is fearless and research which dares to provide improvements. I pledge my utmost to the fulfillment of these things of which I speak."

Broad experience in school administration and government is being offered the people of Illinois in the candidacy of Bottino. Trained in school administration with degrees earned at Beloit college and Columbia university, Bottino has served as Will county superintendent of schools, high school superintendent at Lockport and Braidwood, and assistant superintendent of the Joliet elementary schools.

In the field of government and politics, Bottino has also served and gained valuable experience. In addition to being elected four times to the office of Will county superintendent of schools, he was twice elected to the Illinois state legislature. Two terms in the general assembly have given him experience in the preparation and enactment of legislation—a highly valuable asset in the office which he seeks.

Bottino has been publicly recognized by the people he served. He received the "Good Government Award" by the Joliet Junior Chamber of Commerce for work in improving the Will county school system, "Outstanding Legislator Citation" by state capitol newsmen for work in the 70th general assembly, and the "Distinguished Service Award" by the Joliet Junior Chamber of Commerce for work in civic enterprises.

Active in professional and civic organization, Bottino is a past president of the Illinois County Superintendents' Association, the Northeastern Division of the Illinois Education Association, the Will County Principals and Superintendents Association, the board of directors of the Joliet Y.M.C.A., the Joliet and Braidwood Rotary clubs, and the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, Beloit college.

A United States Marine Corps veteran of 37 months service in World War II, Bottino enlisted as a private and holds the reserve rank of captain.

Born May 2, 1907, in South Wilmington, Bottino lives at Rural Route 2, Lockport, with his wife, Catherine (nee Jongsma), and daughter Ilse Marie.

Freezer Save You Money

—Many homemakers ask, "Does it pay to own a freezer?" Nyla Gorham, University of Illinois extension foods and nutrition specialist, says a freezer does pay by adding to convenience and permitting better diets and more varied meals. It may also pay financially if you are an expert manager and produce most of the food that goes into the freezer and keep it full all year.

But it can add to food costs (1) if you don't keep it full, (2) if you use it just for storage instead of daily use, (3) if you must buy all or most of the the contest this year were three qualified men who criticized the band's good and bad points and graded them accordingly. The judges gave Mokena 11 points, 12 points and 14 points respectively. Upper Room

Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. (Luke 22:46)

The Garden of Gethsemane was a place of beauty and serenity on the western slope of the Mount of Olives. In this place we learn from Luke and John, Jesus often sought quiet seclusion with His disciples.

Here was the scene of Christ's agony and submission to the will of His Father. The experience of Jesus in the Garden has made it a sacred spot.

Although those closest to Jesus were not aware of the impending events, He knew the gravity of His mission. Near His sleeping followers, Jesus prepared Himself for the greatest task of all time—redeeming a lost world. He prayed, saying, "O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done."

Are we asleep, or are we aware of our individual responsibility for the cause of Christ that God has placed upon us?

PRAYER: Gracious Father, today keep us alert to the charge that is ours in the furtherance of Thy kingdom. Help us prepare, through study of Thy Word and by prayer, for every challenge that comes to us. In Christ's name, Amen.

HOMER CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Homer Church has been a busy place in more ways than one during the past few weeks. The pump refused to function properly, the furnace balked, and the drive required new gravel after the snow and ice went. All of these things have been repaired; the dining room has been redecorated, and some repair work done to the pews. And a parish-map of Homer township has been made and framed. All this has been accomplished almost entirely by volunteer labor.

Last Sunday the attendance totalled 87 on its way to the 100 mark which was set for its Easter goal.

On Saturday, April 7, the church will provide a group of workers for an all-church survey, in conjunction with all Lockport area churches. Those who are to participate in the survey attended a training session at Lockport Methodist Church Monday evening.

CANDIDATES ANSWER

Two candidates for Representative in the General Assembly from the 37th District, Republicans Warren Wood of Plainfield and Meade Baltz of Joliet answered our series of six questions to the candidates. No answer was received from Democrats Francis Loughran and Henry McCarthy, both of Joliet.

Wood Answers..

1. What is your position regarding a state income tax? What is your stand on the judicial amendment referendum?

1. (a) A state income tax would be "in addition to" rather than a "substitute for" any segment of Illinois' tax structure - I shall oppose it. (b) The current amendment to the judicial article is the best that has been proposed but not the best that could be offered. I shall cast my vote as a citizen "for" it and shall await and accept the will of the people in this referendum. If adopted the legislature's work will then begin conforming the statutes to the new section.

2. Do you believe the present state expenditures for welfare and relief, especially ADC, is in the best interest of the taxpayer? If not, what would you propose to correct the situation?

2. No, not the taxpayer NOR the recipient. Every and any means must be diligently pursued to re-establish in the sovereign individual American citizen his responsibility for his own economic welfare and his own moral behavior. By-passing that responsibility weakens, rather than helps the individual upon whose dignity this nation is based.

3. What type of legislation would you support to eliminate vote frauds?

3. I intend to re-introduce my bill from the last session to amend the Primary Act. The primary election which was designed to eliminate "boss control" in candidate selection is itself controlled by bosses that cannot be identified, and is tremendously expensive. Combining the best features of the primary system with features of conventions that can be controlled by "we, the people" would minimize the huge campaign costs which sow the seeds of corruption, and would attract a high calibre to public service that presently shun politics.

4. Are you in favor of raising the tax on race tracks?

4. I am not particularly concerned with raising, lowering, or leaving alone the taxes on horse racing. Please see answer to question #5.

5. What methods do you propose to put the state on a solvent financial basis? Are there any areas where state spending can be curtailed?

5. (a) The constant spiral of increased size, scope, and cost of government must be attacked. It should be reduced, but if this proves to be impossible it must be stopped or at least slowed before government becomes the master rather than the servant of people. I proposed a fluid constitutional limit on the amount of spending by state government at the last session. I shall propose that limit again. Persons nor businesses do not place arbitrary limits on income but they DO limit their expenses if they seek solvency. An actual limit on state spending will automatically create a practical limit on state revenue.

(b) State spending can be curtailed in ALL areas. This is not something I am confident can be done, it is something

I DID DO for eight years while Speaker of the House. I assume that if this were done a vast majority of the people would applaud it. If it is to be done that vast majority of the people must demand it.

6. Is it the state's responsibility to aid mass transit systems such as the CTA? In what way?

6. Considerable aid was given by the legislature in the creation of the authority with considerable powers. Subsidization, no. Any public service, governmental or private, must "serve" to survive. No amount nor form of subsidization of CTA will keep it afloat if its potential customers do not want and use its facilities. This is CTA's problem, not a problem of the State of Illinois, and CTA MUST solve it. The fact that a metropolitan area must have an efficient transportation system for mass movement is not an insurmountable bugaboo. If CTA does not or can not provide it, private capital can and will.

WARREN L. WOOD

Baltz Answers..

1. What is your position regarding a state income tax? What is your stand on the judicial amendment referendum?

1. (a) I would oppose a state income tax unless the ballot, by which the voters of Illinois decided this issue, contained absolute security for them that a state income tax would do a way with the personal property tax, the sales tax, and reduce and put a limiting ceiling on real estate property tax.

(b) There are strong arguments for and against the judicial article as proposed. There are competent groups studying both sides of this issue and I prefer to withhold my judgment until I have had an opportunity to study their findings.

2. Do you believe the present state expenditures for welfare and relief, especially ADC, is in the best interest of the taxpayer. If not, what would you propose to correct the situation?

2. We have an obligation to take care of the needy; however, I believe much can be done to eliminate the non-deserving or the professional relief seeker. Making it mandatory for the relief recipient to be sponsored for relief grants by their family doctor, a business man and a responsible neighbor who knows the actual family situation, would help.

3. What type of legislation would you support to eliminate vote frauds?

3. More careful training of election judges would be helpful.

4. Are you in favor of raising the tax on race tracks?

4. If more tax is needed, I would have no hesitancy in considering this source for added income.

5. What methods do you propose to put the state on a solvent financial basis. Are there any areas where state spending can be curtailed?

5. The size and cost of state government has grown far beyond its original concept. Return to the local level as much of government function as possible. This action would result in vast savings.

6. Is it the state's responsibility to aid mass transit systems such as the CTA? In what way?

6. No, not financially. Leg-

Boosters Flunk Faculty In Annual Cage Contest
BY GEORGE FREED
A good crowd turned out Saturday night to witness one of the "really big" events of the social sport season when the Booster Club of Carl Sandburg High school invaded the Eagle gym to take on the faculty in a basketball(?) game.

The Boosters, who won (I think), had a roster that read like a Who's Who of All (in) Americans including Ray, "Tiger" Beavers, "Alabama" Albers, Nick "The Terrible" Bozik, Stan "Lightfoot" Sharpe, "Skyscraper" Dudek, "Big Ed" Sprinkle, Dick "Daddy" Carlson and Bob "High Pockets" Miller.

Their worthy opposition consisted of "Elbows" Kallal, "Roarin' Roger" Fisher, "Steps" Green, "Swish" Keith, "Jumpin'" Zimmerman, "Crazy" Christopher, "Will" Hendricks, "Star" Brower, "Specs" Jacoby and "Nails" Hopkins.

The Boosters were attired in a variety of uniforms not conducive to what the well dressed basketball player would wear. Add a couple of night shirts, a convict suit, some football and formal attire plus a couple of derbys and Bikinis and you have some idea how style conscious the Boosters were.

The faculty, not to be outdone by their flashy opponents, were arrayed in Army fatigues, Mau Mau straw hats, and some sported long beards.

Statistics? The Boosters shot a fantastic 921. Or was it 129? Oh, well. Sometime during the second votions were led by Mrs. Betty Duerr; the program was given by Mrs. Dorothy Nelson; and hostesses were mesdames, Ruby Pape, Esther Batson, Clara McMahon, and Agnes Oliver.

Miss Gwendolyn Doering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Doering 198 E. Oakview drive, and a sophomore at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, has been elected vice president of the Womens Athletic association there. Miss Doering is majoring in physical education.

Fawell Outlines Major Aims In His Program

"I didn't wait for any political deals or promises of support before I placed my hat in the ring," Harris W. Fawell, Republican candidate for State Senator, stressed when he addressed workers' meetings in DuPage and Will Counties this week.

Fawell, whose name will appear first on the ballot in the April 10 primary, noted that he announced his candidacy four years ago in 1958 when he came within a whisker of unseating the incumbent.

"My candidacy didn't depend on the incumbent retiring. I didn't wait for blessings from political big-wigs," the former assistant state's attorney added.

Fawell, whose campaign slogan is "Positive Republicanism", outlined his reasons for seeking to represent the 41st District in the Illinois Senate.

"DuPage and Will Counties need vigorous, positive representation in the General Assembly. Too often we Republicans have been tagged as the party which is 'against'. To use our Republican philosophy as a shield to protect individual rights is a prime use. However such defensive use will avail us little if we cannot also use our Republicanism as a sword, positively asserting our solutions. These solutions are most often the 'hard sell' because they refer to the responsibilities of the individual and local government and fiscal responsibility rather than give-away programs and big government paternalism," he stated.

Fawell pin-pointed three major problem areas in Illinois he intends to make campaign issues during the primary race.

"Fiscal responsibility is the biggest single headache facing Illinois taxpayers. It's my intention to promote new budget laws that would require each state department to file its budget early enough with the legislators so that General Assembly committees have the opportunity to study proposed expenditures in depth and cut out the fat," Fawell explained.

He told workers his other two major campaign issues would be the need to create a state crime commission and to improve mental health facilities.

STATE INCOME TAX
"The present administration's state income tax plan is the political answer to having more cash available for patronage protection. It is fostered by Democrats and most actively promoted by that party every time they capture control of the Illinois administration, Fawell says.

"I'm firmly opposed to the state income tax proposed by the Kerner-Daley machine. It would pile another tax on top of the already existing taxes which all rest on the weary shoulders of the tax-paying public," he noted.

"Undoubtedly changes in the revenue article will come before the next session of the General Assembly. When this happens Republicans MUST be ready with a POSITIVE program. This program must eliminate any chance of new taxes being heaped on top of existing taxes. This program should aid in equalizing the tax burden so that homeowners no longer bear the disproportionate share they now do," he charged.

The candidate outlined a program he would support when, and if, the state income tax comes before the next session of the state legislature.

Noting that a state income tax cannot, and should not, be decided by the General Assembly, but should be presented to the people in a state-wide referendum, Fawell explained that he would vote to have this measure go before the voters ONLY IF:

1. The personal property tax were first abolished.
2. All sales taxes were abolished.
3. The income tax would be a flat percentage-rate income tax, not a graduated tax, with a constitutional ceiling. The legislature would not be empowered to alter that "ceiling" without first going back to the people in a referendum vote.

Share The Fun

Will County's 4-H Share-the-Fun Festival will be held Friday, April 13. The 4-H talent event will be at Lincoln-Way High School and is scheduled to start at 6 p.m.

Every local 4-H club has been invited to take part. The club members can enter vocal, stunt, instrumental, or dance classes. Individuals can also take part in a master of ceremonies division. A master of ceremonies and local club act will be selected by three judges. The top act and m.c. will represent Will County at the state 4-H Share-the-Fun Festival held at the Illinois State Fair, Springfield.

This 4-H Share-the-Fun gives 4-H'ers an opportunity to plan and organize a project. The event provides members a means of displaying their musical or dramatic talents. Performing before an audience is another experience of the county 4-H event.

Interested persons are invited to attend the county 4-H event. There is no admission fee for Share-the-Fun.

A hangover isn't really so serious until you find you can't stand the roar of the bromo seltzer.

Mrs. Conrad Mark reported on plans for serving the banquet for the New Lenox grade school May 16. Volunteer members from each community will assist in the preparation of the food. Band students will assist with the serving. Each band family is being asked to contribute one dollar to assist in the expense of the banquets. Refreshments were served by New Lenox members.

500,000th GAS HEAT CUSTOMER

The John R. Harkness family, 635 Iroquois Drive, Aurora, recently became our 500,000th heating customer. Shown with Mrs. Harkness is Richard Bradford, District Commercial Manager, who called to congratulate the Harkness family on choosing gas heat for its money-saving comfort and convenience.

The white area of this map shows the territory we take pride in serving. The conversion of the Harkness heating system marks an increase of 250,000 gas heat customers in our territory during the past four years.
